CHÂTEAU LATOUR

Some of my fondest wine memories are of drinking wine bottles of the renowned Château Latour. It is, without a doubt, one of the greatest wine estates in the world. While its history goes well back to the fourteenth century, Latour began to be clearly defined as one of the greatest wine estates in the world in the mid-nineteenth century, and amazingly, It has kept that position for the last 150 years. Their wines, which are known for their power, richness and longevity, are sought after by collectors and wine lovers throughout the world.

As Robert M. Parker says of Château Latour in The World's Greatest Wine Estates, "The wine produced here has been an impeccable model of consistent excellence, in great, mediocre, and poor vintages. For that reason, many have long considered Latour to be the Médoc's finest wine... Latour remains one of the most concentrated, rich, tannic, and full-bodied wines in the world."

In 2000, I had the wonderful opportunity to taste over twenty-five vintages of Château Latour, including fourteen wines older than 1961 and four from the nineteenth century. It was an evening I will never forget. The wines were so rich, alive and fresh. What an extraordinary experience it was to be able to taste the 1900 and the 1899 side by side and discuss the differences, or to argue whether the 1955 or the 1949 is showing better right now (at my table we all thought the 1955 had the slight edge). In the end we tasted Latour from a 125 year span and although there was a lot of discussion about which were the better wines, the final conclusion of everyone in the room was that, "Latour makes some of the greatest wines that any of us have ever tasted."

DOMAINE DE LA ROMANÉE-CONTI

The domaine is known for picking very late, sometimes, as in 1978, later than any other producers. They prune endlessly, make many passes through the vineyards at harvest and sort grapes rigorously both in the vineyard and at the winery. Average age of the vines is around thirty-five to forty-five years with yields typically around thirty hl/ha. The wines are aged in new French oak casks for approximately twenty months. There is usually only one racking and since 1985 the wines from all casks in each cru have been blended together prior to bottling to reduce bottle variation. Recently they have been moving towards biodynamic viticultural practices. Like many of the region's leading growers they have seen concrete evidence of soil and vine health improvement. It's hard to imagine that these wines could get better, but that is what separates them from the rest of the pack: an unrelenting pursuit for perfection in the Pinot Noir grape. In addition to the majestic reds, a white is also produced from a plot in Montrachet.

DUJAC

This domaine was founded in 1968 by Jacques Seysses and currently comprises approximately fifteen hectares. Winemakers Jeremy and Diana Seysses have been at the helm of the Domaine since 2001. They believe that the success of their wines lie in the team effort at the Domaine from their Chef de Culture in the vineyard, Lilian Robin, to Jeremy's brother, Alec, and father, Jacques, who contribute in the cellar. In 2009, the Domaine began its conversion to total biodynamic farming practices. The Domaine chooses to emphasize intensity over power and prides itself on producing individualistic wines that are elegant, delicate, and complex.

JOSEPH FAIVELEY

Faiveley has been one of the largest and most important names in Burgundy for nearly two centuries, since the founding of the domaine by Joseph Faiveley in 1825. Today, despite a common belief that it is primarily a negociant house, the domaine encompasses an astonishing 117 hectares of vineyard land, about forty-five of which are in the Côte d'Or, which are the source of approximately seventy-five percent of the wines produced. These holdings include seven monopole vineyards including the Grand Cru Corton Clos des Cortons Faiveley. Besides making some of the most profound wines of Burgundy, the Faiveley family has been important in promoting the wines of Burgundy, with Georges Faiveley co-founding the Confrérie des Chevaliers du Tastevin in 1934.

Faiveley wines are famously among the most long-lived of all Burgundies, with tasters reporting that wines approaching the century mark remain profound. Today the winemaking has passed to Erwan Faiveley.

DOMAINE FOURRIER

Jean-Marie Fourrier took over the family property from his father in the mid-1990s and the quality of the Domaine's wines improved markedly and rapidly. Jean-Marie subscribes to the philosophy that great wines begin in the vineyard and he is fastidious about maintaining healthy, well-nurtured vines. He saw firsthand the importance of minimal intervention in the winemaking process (provided one had excellent raw materials from the vineyards), when he studied under the great Henri Jayer in the late 1980s. Fourrier is careful to crush only the choicest fruit, all completely destemmed, in his immaculately clean and recently outfitted with new stainless steel tanks fermentation room. He also limits the use of new oak to around 20% so as to better allow the Burgundian terroir to fully express itself in the glass. The product of all this hard work is wines marked by wonderful purity, transparency, and bright vibrant fruit, wines that are a true testament to the land that Jean-Marie Fourrier so carefully cultivates.

DOMAINE HUDELLOT-NOËLLAT

Domaine Hudelot-Noëllat was founded in 1964 by Alain and Odile Hudelot-Noëllat. Their wines have been regarded for generations as some of the best in Burgundy, thanks to their purity, smoothness and complexity. In 1978, the domaine grew considerably with the acquisition of five hectares in Vosne-Romanée from Domaine Charles Noëllat —Odile's grandfather's domaine — including parcels in Richebourg Grand Cru, as well as Premier Cru parcels in Romanée-Saint-Vivant Malconsorts, Beaumonts, and Suchots. Today the domaine owns fifteen appellations spread over ten hectares. The Premier Crus, Vosne-Romanée Les Beaumonts, Les Suchots and Malconsorts are all produced from vines that are 100 years old.

LUCIEN LE MOINE

Lucien Le Moine is one of the newest operations in Burgundy, but since its founding in 1999 has found a remarkable level of critical success and the wines are often said to have achieved “cult” status. The proprietors are husband and wife couple Mounir Saouma and Rotem Brakir; the name of the estate comes from the name Lucien, one of Saouma’s nicknames, and “Le Moine,” meaning “the monk,” which refers both to Saouma’s background of making wine at an Israeli monastery and to the French translation of his first name. Today the line has grown to about sixty wines, all Premier or Grand Cru, from some of the best terroirs in the Côte d’Or.

Saouma and Brakir generally purchase juice, either immediately after fermentation for reds or after pressing for whites, and then see to the upbringing in their own cellar. Production quantities of each wine are tiny. Elevation is somewhat atypical for Burgundy, with a cellar philosophy of long contact on the lees (i.e., little racking) and extremely low sulfur levels. The wines do, by design, contain higher than usual levels of carbon dioxide and thus should always be decanted if opened in the first few years after bottling. While these are not standard practices, the high critical praise they receive both in barrel and in bottle make it clear that their winemaking approach has been a success.

DOMAINE LEROY

How do you determine great? Is it size? Is it quality? Is it price? Is it 'reputation' (whatever that is)? Is it the amount of media coverage? However you do compute it, the greatest domaines of Burgundy today must be those under the control of Lalou Bize: the Domaine Leroy and her own Domaine d'Auvenay. The estates of Jadot, Faiveley and Bouchard Père et Fils are far larger, that of Romanée-Conti the most splendid in terms of the percentage of Grand Cru terroir, but for the nobility of its wines, pride of place must go to Leroy and to Domaine d'Auvenay. The sheer concentration, depth and intensity Lalou Bize manages to squeeze into her bottles is breathtaking. Lalou, born in Paris, was brought up in Meursault, in the mansion today occupied by her daughter Perrine. "From the word go I was fascinated," she says. "I was a cellar rat, watching and helping the cavistes rack the wines, taste them, bottle them. My mother kept calling me to come out of the cellar and play with my friends like a normal schoolgirl, but as soon as I could I crept back." In 1955 she persuaded her father to let her take over. She was twenty-three. "He gave me carte blanche," she says. "I started as I meant to go on. I bought finished wine, and only that which pleased me."

Lalou is now happy at the Domaine Leroy and on her own. "Look at my vines," she will say. "Look how healthy and comfortable they are." And, being Lalou, she will not fail to point out a neighbor's plot of excessively abundant, uncontrolled growth. "And come and taste the wine." Lalou's wines, according to her, are always 'extra'. The one-time cellar rat is now a master in her own right, and the wines she produces are triumphantly brilliant.

MÉO-CAMUZET

Jean-Nicolas Méo of Domaine Méo-Camuzet has just celebrated his twentieth anniversary as a full-time vigneron, having first made wine at the family estate in the 1989 vintage. In many ways his two decades at the head of the domaine have dovetailed neatly with the renaissance that has swept through Burgundy in the same period of time, and it is rather extraordinary to see (particularly in a region so steeped in history) Domaine Méo-Camuzet rise to the very pinnacle of estates in Vosne-Romanée in just two short decades. This meteoric rise is directly reflective of Jean-Nicolas Méo's great talent and passion for the wines of Burgundy, coupled to the superb vineyard holdings that were secured by previous generations of the Méo and Camuzet families and the sagacity of the family to early on hire Henri Jayer to manage many of their vineyards and oversee much of their winemaking prior to Jean-Nicolas taking over the reins of the domaine.

JF MUGNIER

For such an important domaine, which in addition to its 1.37 hectares of vines in Musigny proper, also possesses significant holdings in Bonnes-Mares, Chambolle-Musigny Premiers Crus Les Amoureuses and Les Fuées, as well as a monopole on the fine Nuits St Georges Premier Cru of the Clos de la Maréchale...Jacques-Frédéric's great-great-grandfather, Frédéric Mugnier, had been a merchant of spirits in Dijon in the middle of the nineteenth century, and as his business in Dijon prospered, he was able to buy his parcels of vines in Chambolle-Musigny and Nuits St Georges during the nadir in fortunes of the area brought about by the phylloxera epidemic.

The Mugniers added to their vineyard holdings in the area when they bought the Château de Chambolle-Musigny in 1889 (also from the Marey- Monge family), though the house was used primarily as an occasional retreat from the city for the family for many, many years to come, with no one from the Mugnier family settling down in Chambolle until today's proprietor, Jacques-Frédéric Mugnier returned to Chambolle from overseas in 1984. As he relates, "my family were people from the city" so it is not surprising that "I am the first one to live permanently in this house." During the 1920s, the family business was run by five grandsons of Frédéric Mugnier (who had passed away in 1911), with James Mugnier officially in charge of the wine side of the business and the vineyards. Of these five grandsons, only one, Jacques Mugnier, ever married and had children, and it is from this grandson of Frédéric Mugnier that today's proprietor, Jacques-Frédéric Mugnier is related. Making wines of purity and grace, JF Mugnier is surely one of the most sought after producers in all of Burgundy.

DOMAINE PONSOT

Domaine Ponsot in Morey St Denis has long been one of the most important domaines in the Côte d'Or. It began rather meagerly with just a hectare of vines in the 1920s (according to Remington Norman, though I have seen figures of an initial three hectares elsewhere), but had grown to the six hectares by the last 1940s, when Jean-Marie Ponsot began to work with his father, Hippolyte Ponsot. Jean-Marie succeeded to full control of the domaine in 1957, and his son, Laurent, (the current head of the family domaine) made his first vintage in 1983. Today the domaine is just short of nine hectares, with more than a third of it in Clos de la Roche, of which the Ponsots are the largest landholders. In addition to the family's own vines, the Ponsots had over the years entered into a number of different metayage (sharecropping) agreements, which brought vines under their control in crus such as Latricières-Chambertin, Griottes-Chambertin, Chambertin and Chambolle-Musigny Les Charmes, as well as a bit more Clos de la Roche and Clos St Denis to augment their own holdings.

For years the domaine's wines were reputed to be very inconsistent from vintage to vintage, with their successes amongst the very greatest wines of any given vintage, but the less successful vintages relative failures. Much of this has been attributed to the propensity of both Jean-Marie and Laurent Ponsot to harvest very late, shooting for maximum ripeness to add a powerful dimension to their wines. When this methodology worked, as in vintages such as 1980, 1985, 1989, 1990 or 1991, the Ponsot wines were monumental blockbusters, thick with lush, creamy old vine fruit, strongly marked by their respective terroirs and very complex. In the "homerun" vintages, Ponsot wines are rich, bordering on syrupy (as they have such voluptuous fruit), but with excellent structural elements and fine focuses as well.

EMMANUEL ROUGET

Emmanuel began working with his uncle Henri (that's Henri Jayet of course) in the early 1980s. From 1985 he began releasing wines under his own label. He worked closely with his Henri Jayet until his passing and today has taken over much of the Henri Jayet portfolio including making the wines for Henri's brother, George.

Rouget follows pretty closely the methods used by his late uncle, these include; two sortings of grapes (one in the vineyard and one in the cellars), cold pre-fermentation, 100 percent new oak and of course incredible attention to detail from vineyard to bottle.

Needless to say Emmanuel has developed into a very serious winemaker over the years and today stands well and truly among the elite of Burgundy. No serious cellar is complete without them.

GEORGES ROUMIER

The domaine was enlarged a number of times since its inception in 1924, with Georges acquiring a bit more Bonnes-Mares in 1952, as well as two parcels of Clos Vougeot in the same year. In 1953 the Roumiers also purchased the monopole Premier Cru Morey St Denis "Clos de la Bussierre." In 1968, Jean-Marie's wife, Odile Ponnelle, purchased a tract of unplanted Corton-Charlemagne, which was subsequently committed to vine and the first Roumier Corton-Charlemagne was released in the 1974 vintage. In 1978 the domaine finally purchased the small slice of Musigny that they had been sharecropping since the mid-1920s.

Domaine Georges Roumier is one of my favorite domaines in all of the Côte d'Or. In my personal cellar, by quite some margin, I have more Roumier wines than from any other producer. I find them to be extremely reliable for cellaring, and to deliver at their apogees all the majestic complexity for which Burgundy is rightly renowned. Out of the blocks they are not the typically delicate style of Chambolle, but rather wines that are full and well-structured in their youth. For young Chambolles they are atypical, but within the fullness of time, they develop all the silk and perfume for which the wines of this village are so rightly cherished. From the superbly crafted Chambolle-Musigny village bottling that I buy in depth in every vintage to the lonely bottle of Roumier Musigny, these are among the greatest wines that I have in my cellar, and bottles that I look forward to growing old with comfortably.

ARMAND ROUSSEAU

One will get little argument to the assertion that Domaine Armand Rousseau is the finest estate in Gevrey-Chambertin...

The vintages of the 1980s and 1990s at Domaine Rousseau have produced one of the greatest runs of profound Burgundy ever witnessed by any estate in the region, with the domaine producing legendary efforts in the widely recognized great years of the span from 1985 to 1999. Their two flagship bottlings of Chambertin and Chambertin "Clos de Bèze" have always ranked amongst the top dozen wines to be found in these vintages.

Of the two Grand Crus at the pinnacle of the brilliant portfolio of Rousseau wines, the Chambertin "Clos de Bèze" tends to be the more exotic and spicy of the two wines, with glorious fruit tones of black cherry, plum, blood orange often augmented by notes of Gevrey's grilled meat, chocolate and exotic spices. The Chambertin is typically the slightly slower wine to unfold, with a more understated profile of plum, red cherry and strawberry, coupled with notes of cocoa powder, coffee, grilled meats and violets... impeccably balanced, tangy and never come across as over-oaked. They are amongst the very greatest red wines to be found in the world.

COMTE GEORGES DE VOGÜÉ

Delicate, feminine and fragrant, the epitome of finesse: lace, silk and taffeta; violets and dog-roses; raspberries and blackcurrants with a finish of liquorice; amplitude and generosity; intensity without a trace of hardness. All this has been said by those attempting to describe the taste of Le Musigny. Le Musigny consists of two sub-climats, Le Musigny itself and at the same altitude next door to the south, Les Petits-Musigny. The lion's share, more than seven hectares, almost seventy percent, and including the totality of Les Petites-Musigny, belongs to the Domaine Comte Georges de Vogüé. This estate proclaims itself the Domaine des Musigny. The domaine also comprise 2.75 hectares of Bonnes-Mares, located entirely in the southern, Chambolle end of the climat, sixty ares of Amoureuses, 1.80 hectares of Premiers Crus (Baudes and Fuées) and a small parcel of village wine. Wines of the domaine are defined as classy and fragrant, very exciting indeed. The domaine is in good hands. The future is bright.

JL CHAVE

Considered widely as the quintessential Hermitage producer, Chave typifies traditionalism in both viticulture and his winemaking philosophy. The Domaine, begun in 1481, has been handed down from generation to generation. While Gerard Chave still maintains a presence, it is his son, Jean-Louis who is at the helm making some of the best wines in France, if not the world over. The family owns eight plots of land on the hill of Hermitage and in a time when single vineyard Cuvées are all the rage, still holds true to the belief that the assemblage of all of the grapes produces a more complex, powerful and artisanal wine. To Jean-Louis the soil differences found in each plot of land profoundly affect production which is why the expression of the blend is superior to the single vineyard. Chave is passionate about allowing the grapes to achieve complete ripeness via a long hang time on the vine and therefore the wines exude profound extraction as well as substantial alcohol. There is also a natural selection of low yielding fruit due to an average vine age of sixty years or more which adds greater intensity to the wines. The vineyards are farmed organically and the horse and plough are utilized to this day!

The Hermitage Rouge is made of 100 percent Syrah while the Blanc is generally eighty percent Marsanne and twenty percent Roussanne. In vinification, contrary to modernist techniques once again, Chave eschews new oak, using only ten percent for the Rouge and mostly old oak and stainless steel for the fermentation and aging of the Blanc. The white Hermitage has the texture and richness of a great white Burgundy with immense complexity and the ability to age substantially. When serving the Blanc, Jean-Louis advises that they are not chilled too much, and are always decanted for a short period. The Rouge is a highlight.

GUIGAL

Marcel Guigal - perfectionist, fanatical, pernickety – is the super-star of the appellation and probably sells more Côte-Rôtie under his own label than all the other growers combined. Despite this size, however, the quality is exemplary - as they should be at the prices he charges! He harvests late, insists on very low yields, and keeps the wines in a combination of barrel and small foudres and demi-muids, all newish wood, for up to three and a half years before bottling. Their wines are so concentrated they can withstand this wait without drying out, and remain profound, rich and individual. La Landonne is the Brune, La Mouline the Blonde, La Turque the sort of hermaphroditic mixture. Usually my favourite is the Landonne. The Château d'Ampuis bottling combines elements of both the sectors of Côte-Rôtie, from vines in the climats of La Pommier, Le Pavillon, La Garde and Le Clos.

ALDO CONTERNO

In the nineteenth century, the forefathers of Aldo Conterno emigrated to Argentina, but on account of various family vicissitudes they returned to Italy after a few years. It was then that Giovanni Conterno brought his family back to the small winemaking farm of his father Giuseppe in Monforte d'Alba and started helping him in the production of local wine. In response to market demand, the Conternos then felt the need to create a superior Barolo, to be produced exclusively from the best vintages, with a long vinification period and capable of lasting over time; thus, in the 1920s the first Barolo reserve was bottled.

Aldo Conterno's cru vineyards (Romirasco, Cicala and Colonnello) located in Bussia of Monforte d'Alba, portray the real expression of Langa terroir. The wine of this cru gives itself with firm determination by playing on the most classical elements of Nebbiolo vine and its spicy notes give a crystal idea of the uniqueness of this soil.

GAJA

In the mid-nineteenth century the Gaja family began producing wine in Piedmont. Giovanni Gaja established the winery and Angelo, the fourth generation, joined the family firm in 1961. Angelo Gaja, born in 1940 and the present director of the family firm, has a degree in enology from Alba as well as a masters in economics. In 1974 he went to California, where he presumably fell under the spell of the barrique. Gaja has achieved unequivocal success aging his Barbarescos in small, new oak barrels, where the wine takes on a certain subtlety and suppleness without losing the personality of the Nebbiolo grape.

Gaja is the largest private owner of vineyards in the Barbaresco zone, with 153 acres of vines in Barbaresco, Treiso, and Alba. They own fourteen different vineyards in Barbaresco and Treiso that make up their Barbaresco normale. Besides this regular Barbaresco, Gaja bottles three individual crus. Of the three, Costa Russi matures the soonest. It is the most open, with a sweeter taste and more intense aroma. Sori Tildin is more closed and concentrated; it is firm in texture and holds more in reserve. Sori San Lorenzo is the hardest of all in its youth, requiring age to show its real quality. It is the slowest maturing of the crus as well as the longest lived.

Wasserman, "Italy's Noble Red Wines"

BRUNO GIACOSA

Bruno Giacosa was born in the town of Nieve, within the Barbaresco DOCG. As young as thirteen Bruno was assisting his father and grandfather in the cellars, and by the age of fifteen he was fully employed in the family firm. Bruno's grandfather, Carlo Giacosa, started the firm in the late nineteenth century when the wine was sold in demi-johns and not estate bottled. It was not until the 1960s that the Giacosas began to sell more wine in bottle than in demi-john!

Up until 1964 the family did not offer any individual cru bottlings of either Barbaresco or Barolo, and following tradition in the region, they were labeled simply as Barolo or Barbaresco. It is noted that even as far back as Carlo Giacosa's time, the wines were vinified and kept separately in the cellars. The two vineyards which they primarily purchased from at that time, the Gallina and Santo Stefano, were only blended together for the Barbaresco "Riserva Speciale" and therefore all regular Barbaresco bottlings were in effect two distinct Barbarescos released under the same label.

Like so many of the top producers in Piedmont, the Giacosas did not own any of the vineyards from which they made their wines. In 1982, they finally purchased a vineyard holding of their own, the 8.4 hectare Falletto vineyard in the village of Serralunga. This purchase in Barolo was followed up more than a decade later when the Giacosa family bought pieces in two of the greatest terroirs in Barbaresco, the Asili and Rabaja vineyards, in time to produce bottlings of the 1996 vintage.

The style of Giacosa's wines are quite traditional, though the fermentations are not quite as long as many of their neighbors of the "old school". Typically the maceration will now last from fourteen to twenty-four days for the Barbarescos and Barolos, which is quite a bit shorter than a producer such as Giuseppe Mascarello, whose Barolo Monprivato macerates for at least thirty days (down from sixty days in years past). Following this maceration the wines are racked into large casks called botti and aged for three to four years. The control of the winery is now in the capable hands of daughter Bruna Giacosa and Cellarmaster Dante Scaglione.

There are no wines that match the prestige or class of Giacosa's in all of Barbaresco and only a select few which share the crown in Barolo.

John Gilman, "View From the Cellar"

VEGA SICILIA

Vega Sicilia, often called “the Lafite of Spain” for its elegance, is among the oldest extant wineries in Spain and remains among its most celebrated. Toribio Lecanda purchased 2,000 acres of farmland from the Marquis de Valbuena in 1848, but it was not until 1864 that his son, Eloy, began to convert it to viticulture by planting Cabernet Sauvignon, Malbec and Pinot Noir. Originally, he made brandy, and even before it was a winery Vega Sicilia was appointed to be the brandy supplier to the royal family of Spain. Vega Sicilia Único (“unique”) and Valbuena both date from 1915, when the vineyards had recovered sufficiently from phylloxera to permit great wine to be made. Único, made only in outstanding years, is typically mostly Tempranillo, with the balance Cabernet Sauvignon, Malbec and Merlot. It spends at least seven years in barrel, and at least three in bottle, before release, and in some vintages, it is aged for astonishingly long periods before it reaches the market. The 1970, for example, was not released until 1995, and magnums did not follow until 2000!

The wine lives up to its designation as “unique.” It is intensely fragrant, complex on the palate but also extremely concentrated, with very high acidity to balance the richness. Occasionally, the winery will release a small quantity of wine designated “Reserva Especial,” a blend of two or three Únicos; these bottlings are generally considered to be of the same high quality as the single vintage releases.

SINE QUA NON

In the jargon of English speaking wine nerds, they are called “garage” wines, garagistes in Spanish, vins de garage in French, and delicious, expensive, and impossible to find wines by the mainstream consuming public. They are some of the most exciting efforts being produced in winedom today are these limited production gems...The truth is in the bottle, and garage wines often provide compelling drinking experiences.

The ultimate garage wine from southern California emanates from a rusty warehouse that appears to be on the wrong side of the railroad tracks running through Ventura. The winery’s name is Sine Qua Non (literally translated from Latin means “without which one cannot”), and as the proprietors’ (the husband and wife team of Elaine and Manfred Krankl) indicate on the label of their sumptuous 1997 Syrah called Imposter McCoy, “the truth is inside”...

Elaine and Manfred Krankl are both very involved in the production of artisanal wines from their small garage/warehouse...Their first serious commercial venture was a Syrah called Black and Blue, which was made at Napa’s Havens winery in 1992. This was followed by an assortment of oddly-named offerings under the Sine Qua Non moniker. These included the Queen of Spades in 1994, Red Handed, The Bride, and The Other Hand in 1995, Omadhaun and Poltroon, Eclipse, Against the Wall, and The Complicator in 1996, and...Twisted and Bent, Imposter McCoy, and Veiled in 1997. The funky labels have all been reproductions of Manfred Krankl’s artwork, and the wines are put in heavy, antique bottles that seem intentionally designed to provoke lower back pain. Most importantly, the wines are undeniably distinctive, individualistic, and brilliant. In short, this is wine geek code for “they taste real good”. Elaine Krankl looks for “accessibility, fullness, and length”, as well as a wine that is “completely alive”. She accuses her husband of thinking more long-term, and he tends to agree, claiming that she has a more visceral reaction to wine quality, which he admires. Manfred claims to be the analyst, trying to project what the wine will taste like in the future. They make no secret (and are in agreement) about their favorite producers. First and foremost, these include the late Jacques Raynaud of Château Rayas in Châteauneuf-du-Pape, followed by Henri Jaye in Burgundy, California’s Helen Turley, France’s Gérard Chave, François Raveneau, and Marcel Guigal, and Italy’s Elio Altare...After a few forays into northern California, all the fruit since 1994 has come from Santa Barbara, the region they believe has the greatest potential for Rhône Valley-styled wine (known in the vernacular as “Rhône Rangers”). Until they began making wine at their own garage/warehouse facility in 1997, they produced wine at the Ojai Vineyard in Ojai and at the Alban Vineyard in San Luis Obispo. The Syrah utilized in The Queen of Spades, Red Handed (blended with Grenache and Mourvèdre), The Other Hand, Against the Wall, and Imposter McCoy has largely come from the Alban Vineyard, although this has recently been supplemented by grapes from both the Bien Nacido and Stolpman Vineyards. The Roussanne and Chardonnay have come from the Alban Vineyard, and the Grenache from the Stolpman Vineyard. Their sweet wines are made from sources such as the Brander and Alban Vineyards. Their small quantities of Pinot Noir are exported from the Northwest, shipped in reefer (temperature-controlled) trucks from Oregon’s Willamette Valley Shea Vineyard.

AUSTRALIA

PENFOLDS GRANGE

Penfolds' first vineyard was established in 1844 at Magill, South Australia, by Dr. Christopher Rawson Penfold. For over 100 years, Penfolds, like most Australian wineries, produced mostly fortified wines and brandies. In 1950, Penfolds chief winemaker, Max Schubert, visited Europe, primarily to study sherry production in Spain. However, the last leg of the trip was a stop in Bordeaux where he was served forty plus year old examples of the great growths of the region. Being awed by the longevity of these unfortified reds, Shubert sought to produce a wine in Australia endowed with the same long-lived potential as the greats of Bordeaux.

On his return to Australia he instituted at Penfolds many of the winemaking techniques he had seen in Bordeaux. Shubert sought greater control over the fermentation process than was typical in Australian wineries at the time. He was, however, limited by Australia's lack of Bordeaux grape varieties. Thus, Schubert decided to base his wine on the Shiraz grape, which was already grown in abundance all over South Australia. The early vintages of this experimental wine were made from Shiraz grapes grown at Magill and Morphett Vale near Adelaide. The wine was aged in new American oak for one year, lending an exotic wood character to match the rich Shiraz fruit.

The fulfillment of Shubert's goal became known as Penfolds Grange Hermitage (and after the 1989 vintage simply as Penfolds Grange). The 1952 vintage was Schubert's first commercial vintage. Critics rejected early vintages in their youth for tasting like dry port and Schubert was ordered by the Penfolds Company to stop production in 1956. However, he continued making wine in secret for the vintages of 1957, 1958 and 1959 using no oak. In 1960 one of the Company's board members went back to taste the original Granges. At eight or nine years old with a little maturity the 1951, 1952 and 1953 were finally opening up, fruit emerging with the tannins softening, enhanced by the sweetness of the oak. The wines were now showing great promise, the quality finally being recognized and Penfolds resumed commercial production. At that point, Max Schubert and Grange ushered in the modern age of Australian wine. The 1955 vintage of Grange won a gold medal at the Sydney Wine Show in 1962, and since numerous vintages have won 126 gold, seventy-six silver and forty-two bronze medals, plus twenty-eight trophies and seven championship awards at various competitions in Australia and abroad.

Penfolds Grange is still produced with top quality materials and practices, affording at least a thirty to fifty year lifecycle in the best vintages. Penfolds has been produced every year since 1951, with good bottles from the 1950s and 1960s still affording exceptional drinking. Grange classically displays dazzling aromatics, deep color, and a striking youthfulness with a palate redolent of blackberries, plums, leather, cedar, cassis and smoke. A lovely silky texture is another hallmark of the Grange style. With a track record of unrivalled excellence spanning the last fifty plus vintages, Penfolds Grange has risen to be recognized as Australia's finest wine.

AN ASTONISHING COLLECTION OF FIRST GROWTH BORDEAUX, INCLUDING THE SPECIAL 2009 ROBERT PARKER 100-POINT ASSORTMENT CASES (LOTS 912-952)

This New-York-area consignor acquired all his Bordeaux as futures, many from Zachys retail. He has been storing them perfectly in a state-of-the-art home wine cellar since their acquisition. As he is relocating to Europe for work, he is parting with his remarkable collection. Highlights include multiple vintages of Cheval Blanc, Margaux and Mouton, as well as 2005 Lafite in multiple cases including magnums. Also included, are five special assortment cases made up of the twelve wines that scored 100 points from Robert Parker from the 2009 vintage. This consists of Beauséjour Duffau, Clinet, Clos Fourtet, Cos d'Estournel, Ducru-Beaucaillou, Evangile, Léoville Poyferré, Montrose, Pavie, Pontet-Canet, Smith Haut Lafitte Rouge and Pape Clément Blanc.

All these bottles are in remarkable condition with perfect provenance.

REMARKABLE CONSIGNMENT

from one of Zachys customers from the early days

(LOTS 953-989)

Using the word “customer” is a disservice here, as this consignor has become a dear friend of the Zachys family over the last 5+ decades of buying and selling with the firm. Most of the bottles on offer in this consignment (one of many over the years) were acquired from Zachys retail and all have been stored perfectly either in Zachys warehouse or in this consignor’s state of the art custom built wine cellar.

Just a few of the highlights include a full case of Margaux 1999, Chambertin Joseph Drouhin 1990, Richebourg Gros Frères et Soeur 1990 and an impossible-to-find full 12 bottle case of Clos St Denis Dujac 1996

A Pristine Selection of

TOP CRU BORDEAUX

(LOTS 990-1037)

Looking for a pristine selection of top Bordeaux from the legendary 2010 and 2011 vintages? Look no further. Our consignor, having accumulated such an extensive collection, has to thin out a few items which are held in storage in very large quantity. The follow lots have been held in Bordeaux (and remain so today!) since their original en primeur purchase and include some of the most sought after names in France - Ausone, Haut Brion Blanc, and La Mission Haut Brion. Rarely seen cases of Duclot Collection are also on offer here and not to be missed.

Note on location and shipment: Please note all wines in this consignment are currently held in bond in a professional temperature-controlled wine warehouse in Bordeaux and will not be available for shipment until 6-8 weeks after the auction. There will be two shipments from this warehouse, and Zachys can't accommodate special requests. If a buyer would like his or her purchases to remain in Europe, he or she must take possession of them immediately after the auction. Buyers will then have the following shipping options:

- 1. Complimentary temperature-controlled sea shipment to Zachys NY. Appropriate taxes will apply to purchases.*
- 2. Complimentary temperature-controlled sea shipment to Zachys HK.*
- 3. If the wines are to remain in France, they can be put into buyers' storage facilities. All fees associated with the accounts, duties/taxes owed & delivery will be charged.*

REMARKABLE 2005 BORDEAUX FROM A PASSIONATE COLLECTOR AND MEMBER OF THE WINE TRADE (LOTS 1038-1057)

For several decades this collector has supported his passion of wine by working as a merchant in the fine wine trade. He has had access to amazing allocations enabling him to acquire these magnificent lots on offer directly on release with perfect provenance. All from the legendary 2005 vintage, highlights include multiple cases of Cheval Blanc, Haut-Brion, Latour and Margaux in case and large formats (Imperials). Of course, all of these bottles were held in professional storage primarily in the same warehouse since landing stateside.

A WORLDWIDE SELECTION (LOTS 1058-1084)

This collection came from a tremendous local collector with not one, but two wine cellars in his home. He had tremendous help from some very savvy wine industry friends that pointed him in the perfect direction time and again. Highlighted by elite names, this tremendous collection hits all the right points from around the world. Look closely at the Soldera 1999, Giacosa 1990, La Tâche 2002 and the legendary Sassicaia 1985.

A FINE OFFERING FROM THE CHAMPION'S CELLAR PART II (LOTS 1130-1152)

On the heels of this consignor's successful offering in Zachys May auction, comes this selection of Bordeaux. Unlike Part 1, which was more a survey of the world's best wine producing regions, this selection focuses on Bordeaux. The First Growths, as well as Montrose, Pichon Lalande, and Cheval Blanc, make up the bulk of this offering. These wines were stored in custom built home wine storage until this auction.

FINE WINE FROM A SEASONED COLLECTOR (LOTS 1153-1223)

This offering of pristine young Bordeaux, Burgundy and California wine, comes from a seasoned collector. The makeup of this collection is ideal for the lover of Bordeaux. There are the red-letter wines: the First Growths from vintages both lauded and under-the-radar. There are cases of 1996 Latour and an imperial of 1998 Lafite. There are 2001s, drinking wonderfully now, powerful 2003s, 2009s and 2010s from Margaux. There are the long-lived 2000s, and the perfect for a Saturday night right-bank 1998s: Trotanoy and Vieux Château Certan in particular speak to us. There's also a bit of DRC from the wonderful 2008 vintage, as well as Harlan direct from the winery.

BORDEAUX

CHÂTEAU HAUT-BRION

Château Haut-Brion 1996

*Pessac Léognan, Premier Cru Classé

A MAJESTIC CASE

of 1985 Dujac Bonnes-Mares

(LOT 1224)

This exceptional full case of 1985 Dujac Bonnes-Mares hails from a highly reputable merchant in the UK. The case was originally acquired by a private individual through the UK importer, and has since remained under the guardian of two merchants in the UK prior coming to sale today. Detailed photographs of the bottles are available upon request, as it was shipped too late to make our photography deadlines for this catalogue. This case is a truly rare find in exceptional condition!

The SILICON VALLEY CELLAR

When we first saw the inventory for this offering, we knew we had to go check it out ourselves. Within a week, a Zachys specialist hopped a 6am flight to SFO, rented the most expensive red convertible available*, and shot down the 101 to Silicon Valley, the “other” capital-V-Valley in California.

Tucked away down a long driveway was the consignor, a collector of many decades, and a Silicon Valley real estate developer smoking a cigar and welcoming us directly into the cellar. His is the type of cellar we love: packed to the gills, built for function, not aesthetics. The DRC OWCs were as high as an elephant’s eye. He started to tell us his story, and it went something like this:

Three people in the consignor’s family are wine collectors. Their interest in wine began in 1974, when the patriarch of the family was leading the way. Now, they collect individually, both in the US and in professional wine storage in the UK. You may not know it, but you’ve likely seen numerous offerings from these cellars at the London and US branches of international auction houses since 2009. Originally, the total value of the collection was believed to be over $10,000,000. The first offering from the Silicon Valley cellar, specifically, was in December of 2016.

A large proportion of the DRC in this offering was purchased directly from the restaurant allocation of Chantilly, which opened in 1974 and closed in 2017. The restaurant got its start during the embryonic stages of the Silicon Valley we know today, and came to be known as one of the top restaurants in the area. Our consignor dined weekly at Chantilly with his wife and friends, and developed a close relationship with Kittrell and Gus Talasaz, and later Bernie Oropeza, owners of the restaurant. This close relationship developed to the point where the restaurant owner would ask our consignor if he wanted to take part of the restaurant’s DRC allocation. Over time, taking a few bottles of allocated DRC became cases of DRC, as represented by the multiple cases in the collection, some of which still bear the Chantilly name on them.

The wines in this offering were removed from purpose-built temperature and humidity controlled storage and shipped via temperature-controlled shipment to White Plains for this auction.

CHÂTEAU MARGAUX

Perhaps the grandest of the Bordeaux châteaux, Château Margaux is the epitome of style and refinement. At Château Margaux one has truly arrived at the heart and soul of Bordeaux, the world's most renowned wine region.

For centuries before the French Revolution, the château was owned by the Lestonnac family. The revolution, though, saw the estate's owners beheaded, and when the heirs were unable to pay the costs of running the château, Margaux was put up for auction.

The successful bidder, the Marquis de la Colonilla, demolished the old château, and in 1802 work began on the grand château we know today. The Château was sold several times until it was acquired by the Ginestets, longtime shareholders who finally became sole owners in 1949, with the purchase financed by the sale of their St Emilion property, Clos Fortet. However, First Growth châteaux are expensive to run, and to finance the operations of the estate, the owner sold off the vineyards of Dufort Vivens in the 1960s and transferred Cos d'Estournel to his sister in 1971. Even those moves, though, were not enough, and collapse of the Bordeaux market in the early 1970s forced Ginestet to sell the château in 1976 to Greek supermarket magnate Andre Mentzelopoulos. A serious oenophile, he was also a major shareholder in the French wine firm, Nicolas.

BURGUNDY

DOMAINE DE LA ROMANÉE-CONTI

The domaine is known for picking very late, sometimes, as in 1978, later than any other producers. They prune endlessly, make many passes through the vineyards at harvest and sort grapes rigorously both in the vineyard and at the winery. Average age of the vines is around thirty-five to forty-five years with yields typically around thirty hl/ha. The wines are aged in new French oak casks for approximately twenty months. There is usually only one racking and since 1985 the wines from all casks in each cru have been blended together prior to bottling to reduce bottle variation. Recently they have been moving towards biodynamic viticultural practices. Like many of the region's leading growers they have seen concrete evidence of soil and vine health improvement. It's hard to imagine that these wines could get better, but that is what separates them from the rest of the pack: an unrelenting pursuit for perfection in the Pinot Noir grape. In addition to the majestic reds, a white is also produced from a plot in Montrachet.

MAGNIFICENT RARITIES: TROPHY BOTTLES

from a Long Established West Coast Collection

(LOTS 1389-1413)

Are you sitting down? The jaw-dropping Bordeaux and Burgundies that Zachys is offering on behalf of our consignor—a good friend—are among the rarest and most important wines from a collection formed beginning in the 1970s. The wines have been carefully stored since acquisition, and are almost without exception of superb appearance for age. Provenance is excellent, a combination of direct from importer, retail, and auction. Some of the most interesting details regarding provenance: bottles of Latour a Pomerol 1961 purchased by the consignor's father from John Walker in San Francisco in the 1960s; bottles of Richebourg Jaye 1978 imported by Martine's from a full case purchased from Greenblatt's in Los Angeles in the 1980s (the store received two cases to sell), some stickered with the original price of $87.00, magnums of La Tâche 1985 stickered with their original retail price of $428.00, and a magnum of 1971 Romanée-Conti, from an original wooden case purchased by a close friend of the consignor over thirty years ago. Nowadays the rarest of these wines exist only in our memories or dreams, and it is almost surreal to see such fine examples emerge from a long hibernation in a cellar, alive and well.

AN INCREDIBLE COLLECTION OF BURGUNDY AND RARE CHAMPAGNE (LOTS 1415-1443)

From a longtime friend of Zachys and a consignor in nearly all of our auctions comes this offering of mature Burgundy and rare Champagne. This consignment offers the opportunity to pick up many of the mid-'60s Maison Leroy grands crus—often seen piecemeal but never altogether like this. This offering also features the only 100-point Hospices de Beaune wine ever made: the 1985 Mazis-Chambertin. The consignor knows his white Burgundy and Champagne, too, and no consignment of his would be complete without DRC Montrachet and '60s and '70s Krug and Dom P!

REMARKABLE BURGUNDY, ITALY AND CHAMPAGNE FROM A DISTINGUISHED MEMBER OF THE WINE TRADE (LOTS 1498-1479)

This consignor has been an influential member of the wine trade for several decades. He has shown an amazing pallet and the ability to "discover" some amazing producers. The following lots are just a small sampling of his private collection. These rarities have near perfect provenance with many coming from the producers directly. Although all of these 12 lots are highlights themselves, incredible bottles such as Ruchottes-Chambertin Georges Mugneret 1978, Grands Echézeaux René Engel 1996 and several lots of Barolo Monfortino Giacomo Conterno still stand out.

THE GOLD RUSH COLLECTION

PART II

(LOTS 1480-1534)

In May of this year, Zachys offered "The Gold Rush Collection," one of the greatest offerings of California wine, and of Schrader in particular, ever brought to auction. This follow up offering is even more Schrader with perfect, unimpeachable provenance: direct from the winery. There is no finer opportunity to purchase high-scoring and rare California Cabernet.

CALIFORNIA

SCHRADER

Fred Schrader began his life as a vintner with one defining goal in mind, to create benchmark Cabernets from the best vineyards in the Napa Valley. Fifteen years later with seventeen 100-point scores under his belt from the likes of Robert Parker, The Wine Advocate and James Laube, The Wine Spectator, Schrader Cellars continues to define itself as one of the best producers of Cabernet in the history of American wine. Receiving more 100-point scores than any other winery in the history of American wine, 2016 marks a special year in the lifetime of Schrader Cellars.

The story of Schrader Cellars began in 2001 when Fred met Thomas Brown, a little known winemaker who moved to California by way of North Carolina. Thomas took the helm of winemaking for Schrader and he and Fred never looked back. Thomas' methods of non-interventionist winemaking were a novel idea at the time throughout the valley. He believed in showing the true colors of a vineyard and when working with Beckstoffer To Kalon fruit he had access to nothing short of the best.

After a few years of working together, Fred and Thomas found themselves harvesting the incredibly concentrated fruit of the 2006 vintage. Fred looks back on this time with happiness as the 2006 vintage was the first 100-point scores that a Schrader wine received. The 2007 and 2008 vintages brought with them another pair of 100-point scores for the Schrader CCS and Schrader Old Sparky. This was the first time in the 32-year history of The Wine Advocate that a wine received three consecutive 100-point scores for the same marque and Schrader did this with two of their wines.

PRISTINE CABERNET SAUVIGNON FROM THE OLD AND NEW WORLDS (LOTS 1535-1567)

Sine Qua Non, Harlan, Colgin, Promontory, Dana Estates and more: wines from the wineries that solidified the modern reputation of the state of California. These wines are all in this offering, in quantity, and direct from the mailing list. For those that are old-world-inclined, 1962 Único, 1985 Sassicaia, and 2000 Lafite are just a few of the iconic wines from the best vintages included in this offering. All the wines in this offering were stored in professional wine storage.

HARLAN ESTATE

Harlan Estate, owned by Bill Harlan, is a luxury, world-class, Cabernet Sauvignon-based wine produced from a steep, terraced vineyard on the western side of Napa Valley, high above Napa's famous Martha's Vineyard. Approximately twenty-four acres are in vine and the yields to date have been very low. Bill Harlan, better-known as one of the principals of Merryvale Vineyards...has only one objective: to produce one of the greatest red wines of California.

The wines are a blend of approximately two-thirds Cabernet Sauvignon and the remainder Cabernet Franc and Merlot. Bob Levy, Merryvale's winemaker and Michel Rolland, the well-known Bordeaux oenologist, are the architects behind these exceptional efforts. Stylistically the wines are the Napa Valley equivalent of a hypothetical La Mission Haut-Brion/Cheval Blanc blend. They are rich, powerful wines with unmistakable elegance, complexity, and purity.

SCARECROW

The heart and soul of the Scarecrow Cuvée dates back to the late nineteenth century. Born in 1895, J.J. Cohn rose from poverty in Harlem, New York to become the Chief of Production of MGM Studios in California. Cohn purchased a 180-acre estate in Rutherford in the Napa Valley as a retreat for his family. His estate bordered that of the legendary winemaker of Inglenook, Gustave Niebaum. In 1945, Niebaum convinced Cohn to plant eighty acres of Cabernet Sauvignon that he promised to purchase. This would become the base for the distinguished Inglenook Cabernet Sauvignons of the post-war era. It is important to note that these "Old Vines" that are now the hallmark of Scarecrow are still on their original rootstock planted in 1945, unlike most of the grafted rootstock found in Napa that was struck by phylloxera - possibly paying tribute to J.J. Cohn himself who lived to be 100 years old. Paying homage to his grandfather who during his time at MGM was instrumental in the making of film classics such as The Wizard of Oz, Bret Lopez honors J.J. Cohn with the wine that is Scarecrow.

A SCREAMING EAGLE VERTICAL (LOTS 1607-1614)

Need we say more? This offering offers the opportunity for the tasting of a lifetime: a vertical of Screamer, 2009-2016. Stored and sourced perfectly.

CALIFORNIA

SCREAMING EAGLE

It's rare. It's expensive. And there's a mystique about it. But Screaming Eagle Cabernet Sauvignon is no pretender. It's the real thing, and it deserves to be considered among Napa Valley's prestige wines...

You can't make wine this magnificent without fabulous grapes, and Screaming Eagle clearly comes from a spectacular vineyard...on the east side of Oakville, near the Oakville Crossroad...While ripening Cabernet (and smaller amounts of Merlot and Cabernet Franc) is routinely easy in this area, one of the trademarks of Oakville Cabernet is that the wines often display an herbal quality that manifests itself in a variety of subtleties, including hints of anise, sage, dusty berry, cedar and occasionally a whiff of new leather and tar. You find these shades of herb in Cabernets like Heitz Martha's Vineyard (grown on the west side of Oakville), with its signature minty currant personality, or Groth, which is one of the cooler sites on the valley floor. Screaming Eagle captures the best of all these elements. It also epitomizes exquisite balance, managing both to be enormously complex and concentrated, yet elegantly styled, with a smooth, polished texture.
